August 15: Independence Day

LSS celebrated Independence Day. The flag was hosted by our chief guest Michael Berger. Erika, Julie, Mr. Pierre and children enjoyed singing and dancing which were presented by our students: vivid, bright and colorful India. Happy, satisfied and with sweet went everyone home.

Medical checkup hostel girls

Vidhi, our newest hostel girls, did not feel well and had a strange cough. The first x-ray showed possibly TB. After that, all our girls went for an x-ray and a blood test. We were very happy that none of our girls had TB. Purnima unfortunately had Typhoid. She got a 3-days medical treatment in the hospital and came healthy and happy back. Mysteriously, after the bad story with a happy ending, 3 girls wear glasses now! Your star reporter is puzzled.

To Lakhania Dari A Field Trip

A crowded bus road with the hostel girls, our big supporters of the school and family friends Michael, Erika, Julie, the big boys from Bal Ashram and volunteers Margarita, Francisco and many more to the waterfalls. The micro in the bus was a big attraction for our girls and boys. The singing went on and on. Arrived at the spot, we had to walk about two Km a very rocky path. Asha had soon broken her slippers and walked bare footed. She, a real daughter of the village, liked it. Exhausted reached every one the attractive spot: 3 beautiful and high waterfalls came splashing down. Afterwards we went to Asha's family house in the village of Murahua. Hostel girls performed many songs and danced for villager children. It was a very tiring, but wonderful day.

Sponsorship Corner

Anchal found a sponsor: Christy

" Thank you so much for the updates on what is going on at Little Stars School. I love to see the photos of the students, and the news-letter looks great! Right now I am starting my school year too! I am teaching first grade here in the US in the southern state of Mississippi. I see that Anchal needs a sponsor and I would love to help out in any way I can. Please let me know how much is needed to sponsor her and how I can get the money to you. If someone has already sponsored her, I can sponsor another student or hostel girl.

Take care and God Bless You!
 Christy Ivie (volunteered in May 2008 at Little Stars)"

We Thank our Volunteers:

Volunteers

Last months we had a lot of volunteers in the house. Everyone added his special ability, what makes LSS an exciting place to be. We thank very much: Stephanie, Brownwin, Eleanor, Amelia, Peter, Francesco and Margherita.

English with a Dutch accent

Your star reporter has the very difficult task to replace our senior star reporter Stephanie Abbott. Here flexibility and knowledge in using the English language is well known. She returned after 7 month to America. Now you will read some Dutch-English. Hopefully it will not prevent the awesome communication. * Yours faithful Pierre Satijn Volunteer LSS.

New well: 300 ft deep

Our neighbor opposite the street got a new well. Unfortunately, he "took" all our water. Our well was empty. Though we had planned a new well, because our water was sandy, we were taken by surprise. Happily, with money already raised, we could afford a new 300 ft deep one. Now we have mineral water! Please come and try our new treat!
